

The Library Assessment Repository: A Core-Supported, Community-Created Resource

The Library Assessment Repository \(LAR\), an ALA-Core project, is a new website designed to connect library professionals with assessment resources. The site includes two resources – 1. Fundamentals Guide, a collection of resources curated by Assessment Librarians and 2. Community Resources Portal, to allow professionals to share helpful content with each other.

The screenshot shows the 'Library Assessment Fundamentals' page. It features a navigation menu on the left with categories like 'Getting Started in Assessment', 'Methods, Data, Ethics, & Planning', 'Objects of Assessment', 'Professional Development & Survey Resources', and 'Repository Homepage'. The main content area includes sections for 'Using the Assessment Guide' and 'Assessment Terminology'. Callout boxes highlight specific features: 'Curated Resources by Subject Area' points to the navigation menu; 'Helpful definitions and acronyms' points to the 'Assessment Terminology' section; 'Straightforward, instructional content' points to the 'Using the Assessment Guide' section; and 'See our video to learn how to contribute to the Community Resources Portal. Questions? LAR Contact Form' points to a video link at the bottom right.

The LAR Project has been supported by hundreds of hours of volunteer labor over three+ years. Volunteers include: Tom Adamich, Arthur Aguilera, Caroline Bates, Melissa Becher, Kat Bell, Margaret Bell, Kineret Ben-Knaan, Ashley Blinstrub, Tricia Boucher, Kristina Clement, Erin Crane, Brianna Dosch, Jessame Ferguson, Kimberly Franklin, Tim Gritten, Amy Gullen, Robert Heaton, Lynn Hoffman, Starr Hoffman, Cynthia Ippolita, Kirsten Kinsley, Martha Kyrillidou, Lee Ann Lannom, Clement Chu-Sing Lau, Beth Lindsay, Emily Mann, Carol Mollman, Anne Cooper Moore, Sarah Naper, Lindsay Ozburn, Rory Patterson, Laura Spears, Jasmine Spittler, Maurini Strub, Elaine Sykes, Laura Rose Taylor, Emily Treptow, Nancy Turner, Gwen Vredevoogd, John Wiggins, Daniel Wilson, Krystal Wyatt-Baxter, and Kate Zoellner.